COMMUNITY REINTEGRATION LEADERSHIP TEAM
BIENNIAL UPDATE
DECEMBER 2016

In 2007, the Stroke Network of Southeastern Ontario conducted a community consultation in which stroke survivors, caregivers and health care providers were invited to share their experiences of community reintegration following stroke. One of the actions emerging from the consultation report was the creation of the Community Reintegration Leadership Team (CRLT); a team that includes persons with stroke and family members as well as community service providers. The mandate of the CRLT is to respond to the interests of stroke survivors, caregivers and service providers in the community and long-term care sector through the support, advancement and sustainability of initiatives and actions intended to enhance community reintegration.

In 2015, a new consultation was conducted under the advisement of the CRLT to ensure that the key directions identified in 2007 continued to reflect the current reality of community reintegration following stroke. The resultant report, What We Heard: Charting a Course for Successful Community Reintegration After Stroke, identified five key themes which will inform the work of the CRLT and the Stroke Network of Southeastern Ontario.
